WETASKIWIN GIRL WINS PROVINCIAL ESSAY CONTEST

Students Gather in School Room to do Her Honor. Addresses Given by Presidents of Social Service Council and W.C.T.U., and Principal of School. Presented with Two Gold Sovereigns Amidst Ringing Cheers.

Miss Pauly Willows of the Wetaskiwin high school has won the provincial essay contest conducted under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in the high schools of the province. Her fellow students gathered in one of the rooms to share the glory that one of their number had brought to their school.

The Rev. W. H. Irwin, president of the Social Service Council was present and spoke to the credit of those who in these days were devoting their thought along the lines of making the world a better place to live in. He said it was a great thing to be a good home maker and to have a clean home but this only necessitated that we should interest ourselves in the welfare of the whole community. He said we need clean cities and a clean province before we can enjoy all the advantages of clean homes. He congratulated Miss Willows upon the achievement of having led the whole province in an effort to set forth in an essay some ideas for the moral improvement of the people, and the school on the honor that had been brought to them by their fellow student.

Mrs. William Mellett, president of the Wetaskiwin local W.C.T.U., presented Miss Willows on behalf of the association.

Castor Farmer Was Unwilling Onlooker
At Real Bull Fight

Wm. T. O'Connor, residing three miles east of Castor, narrowly escaped a serious injury recently, when two bulls staged a real fight in his vicinity. It appears that Mr. O'Connor had gone to the Madison farm where he caught his bull, and behind the democrat and proceeded home. On arriving at the gate of the Madison farm he stopped to open the gate, then climbed into the rig and started the team. This caused the rope to jerk the bull and he bellowed loudly. Another bull in the bush nearby heard him, came running up and attacked him, and in the fracas the democrat was upset, the team knocked down and one horse forced to death. Mr. O'Connor escaped with a few bruises and succeeded in getting his bull down from the wreckage, whereupon the animals battled for some time, while Mr. O'Connor wisely took to the bush.

Most Spectacular Robbery
In History Of Vancouver

The most spectacular robbery in Vancouver's history occurred last Thursday morning shortly after ten o'clock when three men held up Robert Armstrong and P. Schooley, of the city hall staff. "I robbed them of cash amounting to $5,000," Armstrong and Schooley had been at the Bank of Montreal, Hastings and Richards St., to get the city payroll. They returned on a street car and had just alighted at the corner of Main and Pender when three men stepped from an automobile which had just turned on to Pender from Main street.

Richardson & Sons Now
Have Edmonton Office

James Richardson & Sons have added another branch to their western establishment of an office at W. C. McLean, a former resident of Wetaskiwin. This old established Canadian firm has headquarters in Kingston, and have branches now at Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Port William, Toronto and Quebec.

Women's Institute

The Women's Institute held their first regular meeting after the summer holidays, in Knox church, on Saturday evening. After the regular routine business was concluded the ladies discussed the ways and means of raising the necessary funds to enable the W.I. to send delegates to the convention next year. It was decided to go to the convention view of the C.P.R. from coast to coast was much enjoyed by those present.

WEDDINGS

EASON - WATERSTON

On Wednesday, September 27, a quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. M. J. Duff, 10007 168th street, when Miss Victoria Waterston was united in marriage to Louis M. Eason, formerly of Stouffville, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Aldridge in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, including silverware and aluminumware from the staff of the Dominion Express company, with which the bride has been associated for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eason left on the midnight train for Calgary and later will make their home in Edmonton.

The bride is a former Wetaskiwin girl, and her friends here join in extending congratulations.

WILL WETASKIWIN BE IN A HOCKEY LEAGUE?

Now that the winter season is approaching, it is time to think of the sports which the people of this community might enjoy for the next few months. We notice by our exchanges that other towns in Central Alberta are getting hockey teams lined up, and will be ready as soon as ice can be made. What is Wetaskiwin doing in the matter of getting a good team together? As the District Hotel is offering a spot to the winning aggregation in this district, no doubt a league can be formed and we can expect a good hand of hockey to be played here during the season.

WETASKIWINITES CHANGE RESIDENCE

A number of changes of residence have taken place in the city during the past week. H. J. Wells has moved into the Hutchinson house on Lorne street, which he purchased. J. H. Schreifel is moving into J. R. J. Kite's house, corner of Dickson and Rosemont streets. H. R. Todd has moved into P. Greiner's house on Lorne street. L. D. Hanna has moved into the residence on "A" street. P. J. Henney has moved into the house recently vacated by Dr. Foster on Alberta street.

Serious Accident On Wednesday Morning

A very painful accident happened on Wednesday morning at the farm of Moore & Kellner, adjoining the city, when a cow in the possession of William Krause was jammed against a fence by a team which got beyond control. As it was immediately given and he was rushed to the Wetaskiwin hospital, where it was found he had several ribs broken, and had sustained other injuries which might prove serious. The team ran against a pole, which relieved them of the wagon, but they were not recaptured after some damage had been done to the harness.

The town of Carmanagan was threatened with destruction by fire early on Saturday morning, when the "Pewee" elevator and the National elevator were both destroyed, with an estimated loss of $40,000, which is covered by insurance. The fire was discovered about 5 o'clock and a high wind was blowing at the time.

The feed situation throughout the province, according to present indications, will not be as serious this winter as was anticipated earlier in the season. Reports from most districts indicate that while there is no large amount of feed available, with a normal winter and careful feeding there should be sufficient feed for all requirements and it will not be necessary to ship in feed from other provinces.

CORRECTION

A typographical error took place in our last issue when it stated that the Wetaskiwin high school basketball team was defeated by the Strathcona team by a score of 29 to 1. This should have been 29 to 11. The game was not finished on account of an accident to one of the Wetaskiwin players.

FORD SETS MARK

Henry Ford has set a new production mark for his plants to aim at for next year, which will put hundreds of thousands more cars on the market in 1923 than in any previous year. Orders have been given to speed up production and to install additional machinery with a view to making 5,000 cars a day by April 1st, 1923.

KNOX CHURCH MEETING

A congregational meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, October 10th, at eight o'clock, in the church. As it is likely a large pastor will be called at this meeting, the committee requests that there be a large attendance.

TURKEYS HATCHED OUT IN SEPTEMBER

Mrs. E. L. Morse informed The Times that she has hatched out 100 Turkeys on September 25th. They are all living and doing well. She thinks it must be mature trying to provide employment for the life knitters.

OBITUARY

BAKER
The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. David Baker in the loss of their infant daughter, who passed away on Tuesday of this week at the age of about one month. The loss is especially keen as Mrs. Baker has been very seriously ill since the confinement, and is still quite poorly. The remains were laid tenderly away in the Wetaskiwin cemetery on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. I. N. Hughes, of Millet.

NEW REGISTRAR OF VITAL STATISTICS

Mr. P. J. Hoffmann of the government bureau of vital statistics, Edmonton, was in town during the past week for the purpose of transferring the office of Registrar of Vital Statistics from Mr. J. P. Johnson, to the Court House. The change went into effect on the 1st of October. Mr. E. E. Chandler is the new registrar, and he will also issue marriage licenses for Wetaskiwin. This commission being transferred from H. R. French, the local jeweler. The same policy is being put into effect at all points in the province where there is a court house, with the exception of Calgary and Edmonton. The work in this connection consists of part of the ordinary duties of the official in charge.

HAY LAKES CITIZEN PROBABLY DROWNED

A sensation was caused in the community on Thursday evening last when it was learned that Louis Berg, a citizen of the Hay Lakes, was on his way to the lake during the day on business, and left in a boat to go to his home on the west side.

Shortly before dark the boat was noticed near the shore, but Mr. Berg was not there. A search was at once started, and as it was supposed he had fallen out of the boat, the lake was dragged, but no trace of the missing man could be found. His disappearance is quite mysterious, as no one has the slightest idea what became of him. He is supposed to be a large family of small children.

Alberta Municipal Expenses Show A Decrease

Edmonton, Sept. 29.—Hospital expenses in Alberta, so far as the municipal hospitals are concerned, are coming down. The average cost per patient in hospital during the first six months of this year, according to public health department figures, was $23.50, as compared with $34.90 for a corresponding period in 1921. This has been made possible, it is stated, by improved internal management, the loyal support of all the municipal hospitals by the people of the districts interested, and marked declines in the price of certain supplies.

SITTINGS OF SUPREME CRIMINAL COURT

The half yearly sittings of the supreme criminal court were held here last week with the Honorable Mr. Justice McCarthy presiding.

The following cases were on the list and disposed of as follows, namely:

Revs vs Robert Dean—Charge of unlawfully taking and removing grain while under seizure. Adjourned pending civil action.

Revs vs John W. Johnstone—Charge of criminal libel. Adjourned pending application being made by solicitors for the private prosecutor and also for the defence for change of venue to Stettler.

Revs vs Lewis Coleman—Charge of stealing money. Adjourned to be disposed of at the next District Court sittings to be held at Leduc.

Revs vs Lucille Clemens—Application for postponement of trial granted.

Revs vs John Thew—Charge of theft of money. This alleged offence, the very recently committed and adjournment was granted.

Revs vs Leo Ricks—Charge of attempted robbery. This was a jury trial and lasted nearly three days. Accused acquitted, Alexander Knox for the accused.

Revs vs John Norman—Charge of theft of grain covered by crop payment agreement of sale. His Lordship decided that this was more in the nature of a civil action. Accused acquitted. H. H. Hyndman, K.C., of Edmonton, for the accused.

Revs vs John Starnes—Charge of subornation of perjury. Accused acquitted. H. S. Coulter, Leduc, for the accused.

Revs vs Lawrence Gage—Charge of indecent assault. Accused convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment at Port Saskatchewan, on the date of imprisonment, to run from the term of his first being sentenced to custody. Alexander Knox for the accused.

W. H. Odell, K.C., acted as Crown Prosecutor at the sittings.

CRIES FOR FOOD AND DRINK MEET WITH TURKISH LASH

Christians in Smyrna Terribly Treated by Turks. World Will Never Be Told Real Story of Fire and Horror. Refugees Stripped of Belongings and Robbed. Unspeakable Crimes Committed. Sanitary Conditions Indescribable.

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—"The cries of the Christians refugees of Smyrna for water and food are met by a Turkish lash," Dr. Esther Lovejoy, of New York, president of the American Women's Hospital, who has just returned here after a week's survey in the stricken city, states. Dr. Lovejoy declared that the worst has not been told the real story of fire and horror.

"There are still several hundred thousand Christians in Smyrna and in the interior whose lives are in peril, for the time limit of their evacuation has expired," she said.

"Only provisions known what their fate will be. The crowds on the quays are so great that some of them are being pushed into the sea. Women would wade dead in the water, holding their babes aloft in their arms to save them from drowning."

"Turkish soldiers are systematically robbing them and wrenching the rings from the women's fingers. The wretched sufferers are willing to do as they do, they do not, in terror of the Turks, the refugees are packed thousands in front of the American consulates."

There are more than 100 mothers who gave birth to babies. Some were delivered while standing. I attended many. Some of the infants died within a few hours from exposure, but the mothers clung plumply to the dead bodies of the little things," she added.

Refugees who were evacuated passed through a series of gates, Dr. Lovejoy said. She described how at each gate they were stripped of all their belongings—clothing, money and clothing. In some cases the women were forced to undress so that they could not take any towels with them. By the time a woman, fatigue-ridden, reached the last gate her clothes were in tatters and her hair was matted.

Dr. Lovejoy described the sanitary conditions in Smyrna as appallingly bad. She thought that the Turkish officers were doubtless unaware of the misbehaviour of their soldiers.

Coleman Bootlegger With Woman Friend Committed For Trial

Edmonton, Oct. 2.—At a preliminary hearing, at which some twenty-nine witnesses for the crown were heard, Emil Piccarillo, bootlegger, and his alleged woman accomplice, Mrs. Charles Lassandro, were today committed for trial by Magistrate Gresham on the charge of jointly participating in the murder of Provincial Police Constable Stephen O. Lawson here on September 23rd, last.

It is likely that the trial will be held at the supreme court annexes which will open at Macleod on Monday.

Sensational evidence was given by D. J. Brown, a resident of Blairmore, who testified that he heard Piccarillo say on the afternoon of the murder, "that if the constable had shot his boy, he would kill him that night, but he would let Piccarillo stand over him and he would be carrying."

The evidence of a number of eye-witnesses was taken today. The shooting occurred just before dawn, when the lights had been turned on, but all evidence was to the effect that there were a man and a woman in the "murder car."

Constable Bradner, of the Alberta Provincial Police, who arrested Piccarillo, the day following the murder, testified to the effect that Piccarillo, after learning that Lawson was dead said "they told me he had shot my son."

Bradner replied, according to his evidence, that he had better wait until you learned whether this crime was being committed by this crime."

Piccarillo was taken back to Lethbridge last night to await trial, and Mrs. Lassandro was taken to the barracks at Calgary.

Will There Be A Civic Holiday This Year?

Several of the citizens are wondering if there is to be a civic holiday proclaimed this year, as in former years. Several times in the past this holiday has been proclaimed for the opening of the chicken shooting season, and if there is to be a civic holiday this year, it might be a good plan to have it on the 16th, which will mark the opening of the season this year, the 15th being on a Sunday.

Prof. Touche of Lacombe, is desirous of forming another class for violin instruction in Wetaskiwin. He is a well known and painstaking instructor, and his fees are very reasonable. Anyone interested in requested to phone Mrs. W. A. Macfarlane.

Restoration Of The Penny Postage In Canada Mooted

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Restoration of the penny postage, which was inaugurated by the late Sir William Mullock, postmaster general in the Laurier government, may result from economies being effected in the post office department, under Hon. Charles Murphy and General Supt. T. C. Cookham.

Many reforms which will reduce the operating expenses of the department are now being worked out by the officials, according to the dispatch, which says: "The three-cent stamp is a product of the war. The war is over and reduction of the rate to the old two-cent standard is in contemplation, though the reduction may not be brought about for some time yet."

THE PLAGUE OF PIMPLES CAUSED BY BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for the pimples, blotches and other disfiguring skin troubles that break out on the face and body.

There is a natural foe to bad blood, called Burdock Blood Bitters, which always cures, never fails, and is recommended by thousands to banish everything from the smallest pimple to the worst scurvy cure.
Mrs. G. R. Phillips, Shabamanshi, N. S., writes: "I suffered about a year with my face; it was just covered with pimples and blotches. I used all kinds of creams and different medicines, but none of them seemed to help me. My home doctor told me they were caused by bad blood. I just courage getting rid of them until a lady told me to give Burdock Blood Bitters a trial. I got a bottle and it helped me, and by the time I had taken three bottles I hadn't a pimple or my face. I can highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to any one who is troubled with pimples."

A Dusty Glass

(By Margaret E. Slaughter)

I took a tall glass vase from the highest shelf in my storage closet, today—the shelf upon which I keep those things that I do not often use. It was an unmarked vase, a clumsy, ugly sort of vase, and I only bring it out upon those rare and very pleasant occasions when I have so many flowers in my apartment that my regular vases and bowls cannot accommodate them. Yesterday we spent a long time in the country, did the Nicest man and I, and we came home with great masses of blossoms in our arms. And because there were so many, I was forced to make the most of every container in the house—so that they could be kept fresh and beautiful until I found time to share them with other folks who hadn't been to the country.

I took the tall glass vase from the highest shelf. And because I was in a great hurry, I didn't pay much attention to it—only took it under the cold water faucet. I wanted to give the flowers a drink of water—and as quickly as possible. And so I was very much surprised and more than a little dismayed, when I saw that the vase was apparently filling with water of a cloudy mud color. I poured it out and started to refill the vase. And the same thing happened, all over again. And then—just as I was about to pour out the water for the second time—I saw, to my great chagrin, that the water was not at all dirty. The vase itself, standing on the highest shelf of my storeroom, had not been touched for several long and dusty weeks. And, through that film of dirt even the clearest water in the world would appear cloudy, and unpleasant.

Of course I washed the vase, hurriedly and very thoroughly. I washed it while the Nicest Man laughed—but in a kind way—at my discomfort. And as soon as the vase was clean again, the water running into it from the cold water faucet appeared clean too.

Have you ever seen a girl—a girl with pretty features and a sweet manner and a charming personality—who was always sloppy as to dress and personal habits? Has you ever wished that such a girl would realize the necessities of neatness? I have known just such a girl. And, though I have realized her splendid qualities, her real attractiveness. And, though I have been able to think of her as good-looking—which she might well have been.

Her hair, for instance, is lovely. And yet it is always curled carelessly, is always hanging over one ear, and escaping in untidy little wisps at the back of her neck. She never brushes her hair, and her finger nails are hardly ever properly filed. Her feet are messy, and she allows the heels of her shoes to run over. So that, all in all, the general impression of her is not a happy one.

"If I had that girl's possibilities," I once heard a plain woman remark, "I should be a real beauty. But she—she is hardly more than common place."

The girl, herself, was like the clear water. But her clothing was a dusty glass, and through it her prettiness was vague and clouded and sinister.

I have read books, too, that had back of them an idea as refreshing as a trickle of a mountain spring that rises sweetly out of a green forest place. Books that contained a thought to make life easier to make the world a better place to live in. I have read such books, and have laid them down unhappily—with a vain, dissatisfied feeling in my heart because they were written so carelessly, and with such a wealth of meaningless words and phrases that their real worth was seen "as through a glass, darkly." A dusty glass!

And homes. Ever so many of them—that might be kind and joyous places of shelter—were spoiled because of some friction, or anger, or over-quick temper. A sharp word, spoken before there was time for careful thought, an unkind impulse given full sway, a seed of jealousy or a flake of unjust suspicion, have made love fit out of the window. And when love goes, contentment goes, too. And when love and contentment are not a part of the home, then home is no longer clear and sparkling like good wholesome water. It is dull and lifeless, like the water that has been poured into a dirty glass vase.

Of course the really important thing is to see that the water is clear—whether it's water from the cold water faucet or the water of life that we need so keenly! But the next most important thing is to see that the glass vessel containing that water is freshly dusted, always, and clean. For water, like the water of life and the kind that we give to thirsty flowers, is a natural reflector that takes its color from those objects that are nearest to it.

Most of you, friends of mine, have had the real pleasure of looking into the depths of a brook that flowed between green meadows, beneath the shade of a summer sky. The water of the brook gave you a faithful reflection of the shades of blue and green—didn't it? And that is my motto.

COMPLETELY FREE

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels, is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected. This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

YARMOUTH, N.S.

"For years, I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time. If I neglected to take them, the bowels would refuse to do their work."

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-lives", which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes, my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date, I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend "Fruit-a-lives" to all suffering as I did and I am sure they will derive equal benefit."

(By Dr. J. O. Rutherford)

Every experienced feeder knows, and every farmer should know, that stock will not thrive or lay on flesh when constantly exposed to the winter winds of our western prairies. On the other hand, it is well established that if afforded adequate protection from the winds, live stock can be profitably fed to a finish in the open, even in our coldest weather.

I am quite aware that this statement may be questioned by persons lacking actual experience, but definite proof of its truth is fortunately available from many different sources. Reference may be made to the work in this line carried out at the Brandon experimental farm, to the experience covering many years of Messrs. R. J. Pitt of Monmouth, Saskatchewan, W. P. Puffer of Lacombe, Alberta; Col. Harry Mullins of Winnipeg; Mr. Grayson of Newdale, Manitoba, and many others too many to mention.

The Prairie Guard

Leaving the barnyard, we come to the garden, and it is surely needless to say that on the half-bled prairie a good windbreak is essential to the well being of the garden.

Clear shelter from the wind, and reasonable care, the gardens of our prairie provinces are as good as can be found anywhere. All the standard vegetables and small fruits flourish abundantly, while as for flowers, the old-fashioned favorites of one's childhood and the most modern varieties, as these are introduced, respond readily to the rich soil, the warm sun and the placid atmosphere of the oasis beside the shelter belt.

When properly laid out, trees also effectively prevent those vast accumulations of snow, which, during the winter storms, often surround and even more or less completely cover farm buildings, thus not only saving much extra work, but allowing the yards to dry out much more quickly in the spring.

17½ Tons Corn per Acre
When endeavoring to acclimatize field corn in western Saskatchewan and Alberta, where, owing to the high altitudes, cool nights, and blistering winds, it was long difficult to obtain home grown seed, the writer on one occasion fortunately planted a small field of corn of an excellent shelter belt of Manitoba Maple and Russian Willow. This corn did wonderfully well, producing 17½ tons to the acre, as against an average of somewhat less than 8 tons when grown in the open.

Subsequent similar experiences led

Once the liver fails to filter the poisons from the blood, it is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. The liver becomes congested, the stomach upset, bilious attacks occur causing severe headaches, pains and aches come on, and a general feeling of depression sets in.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will help the liver to restore proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system. Mrs. S. H. Hallett, Herring Cove, N. S., writes: "I have been troubled for a long time with severe headaches and pains in my back and stomach. I went to a doctor who said I had liver trouble. I took two bottles of medicine, but it failed to do me any good. I was told by a friend to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I took two bottles and they have made me well."

to my planting sunflowers in the corn field for shelter purposes, as the sunflower grows more rapidly than the corn, is less affected by winds and achieves, if of the right variety, a somewhat greater height. Four rows of sunflowers were planted to every twelve rows of corn; the surrounding wind, being north and northwest, the rows ran east and west. The result was very interesting, the rows of corn immediately south of the sunflowers being practically equal to them in height, with each succeeding row markedly shorter until the next sunflower belt was reached, when it was again observed that the sunflowers in fact the whole corn crop presented a succession of southerly slopes, divided by the strips of sunflowers.

It will be observed that without specially mentioning the fact that we had gone away from the buildings and into the open fields. There, also the shelter belt is a most important factor, not only in protecting growing crops from unkind winds, as already indicated, but in preventing the fatal soil drifting, which, of recent years, has done such widespread and in many cases irreparable damage.

Forest Belts or Lost Farms
It is a much more serious and expensive undertaking to provide windbreaks for an entire farm, than it is to plant the sheltering trees nearest to protect the small area occupied by the home buildings and garden.

den. Nevertheless, while other agencies may also be of value, it is Nature's safest and surest way of holding things down where they belong. On many southern prairie farms it is a pressing question today and will be in even more exigent one next year and after, as to whether the forest belt shall come or the farm shall go, either on the verge of the wind, or for what it will fetch, less the humus already gone.

They are absolutely inseparable—Service and Sacrifice. Adequate service never was performed by anyone without a certain amount of sacrifice in both time and money.

One of the measures adopted by the finance department to bring the conversion proposals, which are now being widely advertised, to the attention of holders of 1922 Victory Bonds was the mailing to registered holders of a copy of the Minister's announcement. Over 100,000 bondholders were communicated with. Replies were not called for, as those who wish to change their investment were asked to surrender their bonds to any branch of any chartered bank, signifying the maturity of the new bonds desired and obtaining receipt on the official form provided. Nevertheless there have been many replies. "Everything has been so satisfactory that I would like continue the investment," wrote one holder and there have been many letters of like tenor from persons who became investors in bonds for the first time in 1917.
